BIOGRAPHY

Italy, 1987. Lives and works in Berlin, Germany.

Having worked with theater, music, contemporary art, especially in the live act audio/visual scene, Familiari is a multimedia artist whose research derives from the investigation on generative processes, analysed through the lens of the noise and expressed via different media: video screenings, interactive installations, prints.

Experimenting since 2011, he establishes his practice within the international underground media and art scenes. His repertoire tours regularly from theaters to concert halls, festivals and museums, and has been presented in 23 countries worldwide.

In 2013 he moves to Berlin.

From 2011 he runs FAXstudio, a multidisciplinary studio curating audio-visual performances, light design, scenography, videoclip production.

In 2017 he founded psst.one, a video-research channel focused on weekly interviews of artists whose practices relate to the audio/visual field.

In 2019, he co-founded Fronte Vacuo, an artistic collective, together with Marco Donnarumma and Margherita Pevere.
